College Profile

The inception of the college took place in the year 1996 under the aegis of Sree Vidyanikethan Educational Trust with the vibrant charisma of Dr. M. Mohan Babu, a Padma Shri awardee, renowned celebrity and former member of Rayalaseema region.

With unparalleled vision to transform the graduates to performers having a motto—preparing for life; the Chairman established the institution in backward area of Rayalaseema region.

The carefully chosen faculty and the state of Art facilities for the teaching-learning process, Seminars, Workshops, Guest Lectures by eminent personalities, providing a blend of learning, training and practical exposure to enhance employable technical competence, reveals the vision of the Chairman and his administrative companions.

SVEC has an excellent eco-system that nurtures young leaders. With quality infrastructure, verdant invigorating campus, a robust placement system gained a successful record over the years placements across multinational companies. Both genders enjoy campus life with long hours of technical and managerial development skills which makes the SVEC motto high.

Department of General Engineering, Basic Sciences and Humanities (GEBH): The Department was established in the year 2000 with four branches rose to the level of serving the needs of 10 Engineering branches with 18 sections. The department is contributing at a majority level for B.Tech. students in addition to its services for the other courses in the college. Having enough number of Doctoral Degree Holders, Research Competence is also initiated in the Department.

With an objective of indulging new technologies in communication skills among the faculty of English in various engineering colleges, the faculty of English is making an attempt to conduct Faculty Development Programme on “Empowering Faculty on Life Skills:"

Theme of the Programme

The essence of education is opportunity. The essence of technical ability is opportunity. The power of Twenty First Century is not only based purely on the acquisition of academic knowledge but also on the value based education. Used to equip with this, the potentials and transformations are to be enriched among the student community. This Programme serves as a cluster for the engineering faculty along with academicians to deliberate on competency levels that are required to meet the emerging corporate challenges in the present scenario. To enhance the competency level, one should follow the amiable strategies. The technological development has resulted in the growth of students’ socio-cultural improvements. Though Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) is a more projected environment, the path in which the students are experiencing is non-negative parity. Here plays the role of a teacher, as counselor and facilitator, in making the students to be on a positive path.

The teacher needs competence and experience to do the needful for the students, which requires commitment, enthusiasm, patience and role-consciousness. In a nutshell, the teacher needs learning to learn to make learner’s learn. According to an old maxim ‘Teachers are the ones who understand, know, and can’, not suitable because of the ICT. Thus, the patterns, which allow innovations and improvements, are necessary in both teaching and learning processes.

Today every industry needs curious, competent, talented, and educated workforce to compete within the Global challenges. Institutions in line with the needs of the industry should turn to appropriate curriculum for the employability of students.

Objectives

- Creating ability to think critically and achieve solutions to the problems.
- Ability to create a team environment which brings success.
- Creating potentialities for reducing cross-cultural understanding and communication.
